VERSION

This is what Vent looked like with just Biometal Model X. His buster, which can shoot through just about any material, is merged with his arm. By building up energy in the buster, he can fire a more powerful "charged shot." If he stores even more energy, however, he can unleash his special move, the "Double Charged Shot," which allows Vent to fire two lethal blasts of energy at his target!

This is my favorite model because the design is simple and the shape is brought in pretty tight. At first, I had trouble imagining the whole thing in three dimensions, so the helmet looked a bit different on every page. By the time I figured out how to draw it properly, Vent had already moved onto Model ZX! (laughs)

MODEL Z

ELEMENT: None

SPECIAL FEATURES: The saber (sword) offers great maneuverability and swift attacks.

WEAPON: Z-Saber

SPECIAL MOVE: Charged Saber

This is what Girouette, Vent's dependable friend and boss, looked like with Biometal Model Z. He was pretty invincible with his fast movement speed and even faster attacks! Girouette left Model Z with Vent.

This guy is just too cool. When I was drawing him, I thought of him as the strongest and most dependable guy ever! ... He wasn't faking it... Serpent just caught him at a bad time... I swear. I extended the blades on either side of his head, hoping that it would make him look even stronger. Did it work? I wanted him to hold his saber the other way around, but that idea was rejected.

This is the second form of our main character, sporting the color red, "the color of heroes." I love the colors on his helmet. I really liked the blades on the sides of the Model Z helmet, so I went all crazy with this model too, but I was told to tone it down. The shapes still change a bit every now and then. Aside from that, the long hair (?) was a bit of a reward for myself, because I love heroes who wear a long, billowing scarf or cape.

WHOOPS

This is the back of the book!

You're looking at the last page, not the first one.

MEGA MAN ZX is a comic originally published in Japan (known as manga). Traditional manga is read in a 'reversed' format, starting on the right and heading towards the left. The story begins where english readers expect to find the last page because the spine of the book is on the opposite side.

Preserving the original artwork, we've decided to leave the Japanese format intact. Check the examples below to see how to read the word balloons in proper order.

Now head to the front of the book and enjoy MEGA MAN ZX!

A MESSAGE FROM
SHIN OGINO

Yay! This is my first manga series ever!!
And it's a "Mega Man" comic, to boot!

I'm so surprised and excited at the same time. I am so grateful to all of my readers for supporting me, and to all of the people who made this possible.
It may not be the most perfect manga
you've ever read, but I hope you enjoy it all the same!
